For Immediate Release:

June 3, 2013 Moreno Valley, CA -Daniel Hect, Chairman and CEO of the Masters Hall of Fame has announced Lisa "The Black Widow" King will be the Guest Speaker at the Master Hall of Fame Banquet held on Saturday June 22, 2013 at the Orange County Hilton in Costa Mesa California.

"The theme of the 2013 Masters Hall of Fame event is Woman in the Martial Arts; I cannot think of anyone better to speak on the impact of martial arts to woman than Lisa King" said Daniel Hect, Masters Hall of Fame CEO.

"Lisa has dedicated her life and professional career to the martial arts. She continues to be an outstanding role model for woman in the Martial Arts. Lisa is a Full Contact Muay Thai Champion, mother of two, and also an executive protection agent providing security for high-end clients. Lisa also is a martial arts instructor, an actress and spokes model, runs a full-service marketing firm, and is a well-respected ring announcer, fight matchmaker and commentator. She has done it all; Hect Continued.

Lisa King accomplishments include numerous TV and film credits including ESPNs "I'd Do Anything" and "Ring Girls," and the feature film "Fight Girls," which spun an 8-week reality show also entitled "Fight Girls" on the Oxygen Network. She was named Black Belt Magazine's "Woman of the Year" in 2007.

Giving back to the community is central in Lisa's life. She has served on the board of the American Cancer Society, has been actively involved in fund-raisers for ACS and other charitable organizations, and teaches martial arts classes free to battered women and teens. Lisa continues to do everything she can to promote and educate the public about full-contact female fighting, MMA and Muay Thai.

"I am excited to be the Masters Hall of Fame Guest Speaker; it gives me another platform to speak to women in the martial arts;" said Lisa King. "However my greatest motivation and inspiration are my children; facing new challenges and achieving new success is my way of showing them that anything is possible;" Lisa continued.

Lisa "THE BLACK WIDOW" King will be speaking to the Masters Hall of Fame guest as well as the Martial Arts community through Kamatoy Media Group who has organized coverage by NBC News Radio on KCAA 1050AM, the Presidio Sentinel, as well as KZTC Channel 7, a San Diego based Television Station at the Masters Hall of Fame Banquet.

"As an organization, the Masters Hall of Fame believes it has a responsibility to develop excellence in the martial arts; and to recognize martial artists that embrace life as other exceptional martial artists have done in the past. We believe Lisa King to embody the essence of a Martial Artist, and why she will be speaking at the Masters Hall of Fame;" said David Dye President of the Masters Hall of Fame.
